NEWS of WORLD MARKETS PIEZ NEVER BUILT ANY SHIPS, BI

New York, Jan. 31.—Advances at the opening of today's stock market were fairly well distributed among steels, coppers, equipments, rails and war issues as a whole. Gains in these groups extended to a point, in several instances approximating 2 points. Specialties were represented by Texas Company, Industrial a whole. Gains in these groups extented to a point, in several instances approximating 2 points. Specialties were represented by Texas Company, Industrial Alcohol, General Motors and International Paper. United States Steel rose a point and other leaders indicated further short covering. Liberty bonds, second 4a, made a new minimum of 95.99. President Wilson's significant comment on the duration of the war stimulated the market to greater activity and strength during the midsession. Ralls and industrials supplemented their gains of the morning and the general list moved to higher levels.

Steels, motors and specialties led the list to highest levels in the extremely active final hour. The closing was buoyant. Liberty 3½s at 97.20 and second 4s at 95.76 registered lowest records, but rallied before the close. First 4s sold at 96.60 to 96.59.

SYSTEM IN PURCHASES Plans of Economy That Retail Mer-chants Are Considering in Relations With Customers.

Early this month a representative of the American Sugar Refining company addressed the Retail Merchants' association of this city, in which he outlined plan of economy for the retail groces particularly. Along this line Armour & Co. have issued a circular dealing with the "cash-and-carry" system, which has been thoroughly considered by economic bodies in this city. The Armour Dealer Service company has often been called upon to explain to many merchants a new system of re-tailing, which has of late been growing more and more into favor. It is usually designated as the "cash-and-carry" sys-The system has been championed by the Retailers' Journal, of Chicago in which these suggestions are made: (1) Prices reduced and marked in plair figures; (2) 5 cents charge on each delivery; (3) 1 cent charge for each dollar or fraction thereof on credit accounts. The plan has been put into operation by a large number of retail stores, with very gratifying results. In the first place prices are reduced to as low a point as possible, allowing for a fair profit fig-ured on the lessened running expenses which the system affords. These reduced prices draw the trade which otherwise would patronize the mail-order houses or chain stores. All goods are marked in plain figures so the shopper may read them. Odd amounts like 16 and 19 cents are used in the selling prices as well as in the round numbers, 5 cents, 10 cents. 25 cents, etc.. When goods are displayer in windows it is suggested that price tags be put on them.

The 5 cents delivery charge is supposed to accomplish to accomplish several things. In the first place it does away with a great deal of place it does away with a great deal of unreasoning and irresponsible demand upon the delivery service from the kind of people who might order a box of crackers in the morning and a loaf of bread in the afternoon, expecting both to be delivered promptly. Again, it gives people who wish to profit by carrying home their purchases a chance to do so, and charges the expenses of delivery and charges the expenses of delivery service against those only who desire and receive its benefits.

Another step toward fairness and good business is the 1 per cent, charge for credit. Carrying customers week after week, month after month, or even year after year sometimes, is one of the things that has greatly increased the cost of retailing. It is only fair that persons who do not avail themselves of the accommodation should not have to nay for commodation should not have to pay for it. The new system gives credit to those who desire it, at a nominal figure, and relieves cash customers of any share in the expense of maintaining credit ac-

HIGH PRESSURE LEADING SHARES PRICE OF OATS AT LIVERPOOL CALL RISE FEW POINTS NEW HIGH LEVEL FOR COTTON FIRM

Chicago, Jan. 21.—Adverse weather conditions tended today to strengthen corn prices, but the effect was largely offset by reports of an increased supply of empty cars and by announcement of energetic measures taken to take care of new deliveries from farmers. Opening quotations, which varied from the same as yesterday's finish to a shade off, with March $1.27 and May $1.25 \%, were followed by a slight upturn that, however, failed to last.

All deliveries of oats reached new high price levels. Government buying at interior points had much to do with the upturn.

Realizing sales more than counter-balanced in the provision market the influence of higher prices on hogs.

Prices closed easy, 166 4c to 1/2 lower, with March $1.26% and May $1.25%.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

New Orleans, Jan. 31.—After a decline of 2 to 3 points on the most active months on the first call here today cotton advanced on buying stimulated apparently by a favorable view of world politics, and at the end of the first half-hour prices were 7 to 14 points over yesterday's close.

Rumors of serious disturbances in German cities and of predictions of the ending of the war this year from a high source at Washington encouraged buying, which, in the trading up to noon increased the advance to 11 to 29 points. Reports that the administration favored fixing of prices caused a quick reaction from the advance. At 1 o'clock prices were 3 points up to 5 points off compared to yesterday's close. that will make old naval constructors

OBITUARY

J. J. Parton. (Special to The News.) Huntsville, Ala., Jan. 31.—31. J. Parton, aged 86 years, died at Waco, Tex., after a long illness, with pneumonia. He was a veteran of the war between the states and was for many years a carriage and lumber man in Huntsville during the reconstruction days. JOHN W. ADAMS

Pioneer Citizen and Promoter

Included in the list of buildings planned and erected by them are the First M. E. church, the Adams block on East Eighth street, the Union block, opposite the Adams block; the recently destroyed building of the University of Chattanooga, and others.

John Wesley Adams was a large promoter of enterprises and industries and was instrumental in bringing hun-dreds of thousands of dollars in capital to Chattanooga. His residence here was characterized by a work in which he had at heart the best interests of the city, and the greater part of his life was given to the advance-ment and upbuilding of the Dynamo of Dixie.

Mr. Adams was superintendent of the First M. E. Sunday school for a number of years. For six years he was president of the public school board and a member of this board for eight years.

He was one of the most thorough of men in carrying out any undertaking, always doing his work diligently and with a thorough understanding of its requirements.

Mr. Adams did many thousands of worth of building in Atlanta and Little Rock, chiefly on college structures, and his reputation is a business man and constructionist stood high in these cities.

Deaceased joined the Methodist Episcopal church in 1859. His parents moved to Elyria, O., when he was 9 years of age. He obtained his com-mon school education at Elyria; also some technical mechanical training. His residence in Chattanooga had extended over a period of almost fifty years.

He was interested in the development of the south and took no small part in its upbuilding and advancement.

The late Rev. Dr. J. J. Manker, fa-ther of P. A. Manker, well-known Chattanoogan, came to Chattanooga in HIDES, WOOL AND ROOTS.

Mr. Chamles further admitted that a large number of representatives from the various labor organizations had at recent meetings passed strong resolutions requesting him to become a candidate George W. Chamlee is one of the best known and most generally liked members of the Hamilton county bar. For twenty-five years he has been a mem-Funeral services over the body of Evelyn Bruce Blair, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Blair, who died Tuesday night at the home of her of the local bar and during that time has by his studious efforts and his splendid ability built him up a general practice according to the control of individuals called on him whether it be in a professional way or whether for friendship he has always and at times responded to their call. One of the very first big cases in which Mr. Chamlee participated was as attorney for nine out of twenty-six dependants in the Capt. J. F. Shipp contempt case. His argument before the supreme court in these cases was considered one of the very best of its kind.

One of the recent cases Mr. Chamlee was leading counsel in was that of Fred Cornelison, charged with the robbery of a Southern Express com-pany truck. Cornelison was a driver for the Southern Express company and it was while on his way to the Terminal station that it was chared he robbed the truck of $50,000. He was indicted and when the case came for trial he was completely exonerated.

Mr. Cornelison now, through his attorney, Mr. Chamlee, has a damage suit against the express company for false and malicious arrest.

The recent cases growing out of the various strikes were nearly every one handled by Mr. Chamlee as leading counsl. He is also at present one of the attorneys of Sheriff Nick P. Bush in the recent ouster proceedings against the sheriff.

Should Mr. Chamlee enter the race, and it seems certain that he will, his friends say that he will be the winner when the vote is counted.
